We were searching for daycare in 2011 when we were expecting our daughter, Emma. As you can imagine, it's a scary thought leaving your soon to be child in the hands of strangers. When we walked in and met the staff at Educare we knew immediately it was going to be the place for our baby. The staff was friendly, informative and made us feel right at home. Educare creates a sense of community for the entire family by hosting activities we can all participate in such as the Campfire @ the Creek in the Summer, Fall Festival Parade, Trunk or Treat in October, Holiday Party in December, and Nature Walks throughout the year on their 22-acre property.

Our family enjoys the outdoors so we love the fact that there is a focus at Educare about learning and experiencing nature. We know she has a great time with the other children during the Discovery Walks, creating crafts with items found outside and the learning sessions surrounding their walks and the seasons.

We always take advantage of "Parent's Night Out" where we drop Emma off once every other month on a Saturday evening. It's nice to get out and enjoy one another and know that she is in trusted hands.

The Educare calendar of events provides a way for us to stay on top of what she is participating in each day. It's terrific having her curriculum shared with us each month so we always know what topics Emma is focusing on. We know a few of her favorite activities are Music Class, Cooking Fun and the Fun Bus. The number of fun and educational activities provided is amazing! We also appreciate the focus on healthy balanced meals and exercise.

Twice a year there are scheduled parent-teacher conferences so we can be updated on Emma's growth and behavior in the classroom. This is important for us as parents so we are aware of how she interacts with others and areas that she can work on educationally. We always know we can have a chat with her teachers anytime throughout the year for an update as they are great communicators.

The staff and administrators at Educare show a great enthusiasm and genuine love of the children. There is no place I would rather help raise our little Emma during her beginning years. It has been a wonderful opportunity for our entire family.

Sincerely,
The Fletcher Family
